Description

Pair of modern silver candlesticks in the neoclassical style, typical of the late 1700s. The hexagonal panelled stems are complemented by similarly fluted panelled capitals which in turn feature simple reed pattern nozzles which are detachable for ease of cleaning.

Neoclassicism is the 18th and 19th century movement that developed in Europe as a reaction to the excesses of Baroque and Rococo. The movement sought to return to the classical beauty and magnificence of the Ancient Greece and the Roman Empire and based on simplicity and symmetry.
