Description

Langfords designed and created this centrepiece at the request of the Adjutant General's Corps, one of the largest corps in the British Army, providing support in the form of military personnel administrators. Our model referenced the corps' cap badge featuring the emblem of a lion, and Pride Of Lions, the official regimental quick march of the AGC. The lions were traditionally cast in sterling silver, hand chased to create fine detail of the animals' features, and mounted on an ebonised wooden plinth with a cast and applied sterling silver cap badge.
