Description

Large fine quality handmade wood-lined silver box with gilded sections, in the form of a traditional leather-bound book . The body is engraved to resemble the pages and the spine to look like the traditional embossed mouldings of an antique leather book. This silver box is impressive in size and quality, and while it could be used for any desk storage purpose, the wood lining makes it suitable to hold and protect cigars.

The plain cover lends itself to engraving and inscription or imagery. You can look for inspiration in our engraving archive.
