

LANGFORDS

Antique & Contemporary Silver

Victorian silver scent horn

Maker Not Recorded

£350

REF: 1695

Width: 53 mm (2.09")

Diameter: 20 mm (0.79")

Description

A charming scent Victorian silver perfume bottle in the form of a hunting horn with delicate hand-chased decoration. The chain indicated that would have originally been attached to a chatelaine, a popular accessory.

A silver chatelaine was an ornament, used by both men and women and usually fastened to belt or pocket, with chains and hooks on which to hang small articles such as watches, keys, seals, writing tablets, scissors, and purses.