Description

A pair of Art Deco spirits decanters with silver collars. The glass bodies are cut with a sunrise design made popular during this period.

Art Deco was a popular design style in the 1920s and '30s characterised especially by sleek geometric or stylised forms. It represented luxury, glamour, exuberance, and faith in social and technological progress. For that reason silver cocktail and barware were popular categories of goods to reflect the style of the time.
