Description

An Arts & Crafts naturalistic silver sandwich or canapés tray with crimped border and organic textured surface which reflects the silver's light beautifully. It would also be suitable for use as a drinks tray.

The Arts & Crafts movement emerged from a disenchantment with the impersonal, mechanised direction of society in the 19th century and advocated a return to a simpler, more fulfilling way of living. The movement was admired for its use of high quality materials and for its emphasis on utility in design.
