Description

Designed and signed by J W Dibble, this is a stylish sterling silver serving tray from the Art Deco period and bears a George V silver anniversary hallmark. The heavy-gauge tray features an applied mount to the panelled border decorated with simple diagonal grooves and smooth, elongated C-shaped wood handles; all familiar design cues of the Art Deco period.

Perfect for serving drinks or cocktails, this silver tray would also make an ideal companion to a four-piece Art Deco silver tea service.

Art Deco was a popular design style in the 1920s and 1930s characterised especially by sleek geometric or stylised forms. It represented luxury, glamour, exuberance, and faith in social and technological progress. For that reason silver cocktail and barware were popular categories of goods to reflect the style of the time.

This Art Deco silver serving tray is not available to purchase online. Please get in touch if you would like more information or are interested to buy it.
